

CEO Statement

Dear warrant holder,

In July 2021, in connection with the listing on Nasdaq First North Growth Market, Wyld Networks carried out a new issue of 2,275,000 units, each unit consisting of one (1) share, one (1) warrant of series T01, and one (1) warrant of series T02. The raised capital enabled the company to create a very strong foundation to launch into finalizing and commercialising the product Wyld Connect.

The fact remains that only 15% of the world has wireless coverage to allow data to be collected from IoT sensors. This lack of global connectivity is holding back the growth of IoT networks from adding $2 to $3 trillion to global GDP over the next decade.

Wyld Networks is actively solving this problem by creating a low power, low cost, ubiquitous solution. Wyld Connect combines LoRaWAN technology and low-earth orbiting satellites to create a hybrid satellite terrestrial solution to provide 100% global coverage.

With this vision in place right from the beginning of our journey, I am very proud of what the team has achieved over the past 8 months. We have built up a huge amount of momentum, with several milestones achieved. Here are some highlights:

- Over 17 signed agreements with launch partners from Agriculture, Environment, Maritime, Energy and Utilities sectors.
- Initial purchase orders received for over SEK 18 million prior to launch with Eutelsat, Bayer Crop Science and South African based agricultural company.
- Established the Multimodal IoT Infrastructure Consortium (MMIIC) together with Eutelsat, TrakAssure and Senet (which is the largest terrestrial LoRaWAN network operator in the US) to offer global tracking solution into the supply chain market.
- Joined the LoRa Alliance and protected our IP and brand by receiving the necessary approvals for patents and trademarks respectively.

Over the past 8 months since the IPO, whilst the engineering team have been finalising the development of Wyld Connect; the commercial team has delivered on signed agreements with huge multinational corporations as test and launch partners. This has culminated in the first major order for Wyld Connect terminals with start of delivery in April, firmly establishing the company as income-generating. The data plans are a separate income stream compared with the Wyld Connect device and will generate a substantial amount of recurring revenue in the near future.

Now in the coming months we begin to enter into the launch phase with the full service going live in the second half of 2022. Our focus has shifted to deliver on the commercialisation strategy as a virtual satellite network operator for IoT services.

The warrants of series T01 have an exercise period between 22 March and 4 April, and the raised capital will fast track the commercial delivery of Wyld Connect as we now transition into the manufacturing and delivery phase.

I would like to encourage all warrant holders to exercise their rights as this will provide fuel to ramp up the commercialisation of Wyld Connect. I'm as excited as ever as we continue this journey and would like to welcome all new shareholders and thank our existing shareholder for their support. Without you, this wouldn't be possible.
